COMMUNITY NEWS

By Randy Ecklund

Exploring Our Great Outdoors

I would like to think we are now past the last of the head fakes from Mother Nature and we can now fully embrace the Summerlin community open spaces and amenities with complete dedication and enthusiasm. Visit or travel past any Summerlin park, playfield or community amenity this time of year and you cannot help but smile at the legions of children and adults making memories.

It may seem hard to believe, but sometime this past month our community welcomed the 37,000th family to Summerlin. Yet, much like we locals reference the “small town feel” of our Las Vegas, I tend to get that same sense of “small community feel” from our Summerlin. One can take comfort in the fact we are all in this together, neighbors watching out for neighbors, one neighborhood at a time, sharing costs to maintain and preserve our community open spaces, for the betterment of all.

While you are out and about these next few months, please be reminded that our Summerlin Council parks and open spaces often are not on the same watering schedules as your respective homes. While watering “windows” continue to shrink for all of us this time of year, it is important to note that park open space maintenance and management is impacted by a variety of factors including major mow days,

COMMUNITY CONNECTION

Southern Nevada Water Authority

Tips to Keep Your Landscape Water Smart

As spring has sprung in Southern Nevada, the change of seasons provides an ideal opportunity to make sure your landscape is getting just the right amount of water it needs to stay vibrant and healthy and is not being overwatered.

Because spray irrigated grass and drip irrigated plants and trees have different watering requirements, there is no one-size fits all approach to landscape watering. Rather, by following these guidelines, you can boost your landscape's overall health and save water at the same time.

- Water grass (sprinklers) for a recommended 12 minutes total per assigned watering day.

- Plants and trees (drip) require much less water than grass (usually only one to two days per week in spring is all they need).

In addition, spring seasonal watering restrictions are in effect now through April 30. The spring restrictions limit landscape watering to up to three assigned days per week (Sunday watering is prohibited all year). You can increase your water savings without harming your landscape by “ramping up” irrigation schedules, adding the second and third watering days only as temperatures warm up and weather patterns permit. To find your assigned watering days, visit snwa.com.

You can save even more water and lower your monthly water bills by converting your grass to water-efficient plants and trees through the Southern Nevada Water Authority's (SNWA) Water Smart Landscapes Rebate Program (WSL). Through WSL, the SNWA offers a cash incentive of up to $3 for each square foot of grass you upgrade to drip-irrigated landscaping.

By following the seasonal restrictions and replacing grass with drip-irrigated landscaping, you'll be doing your part to help Southern Nevada conserve its limited water resource. For more information, visit snwa.com. ☀

COMMUNITY DEVELOPER UPDATE

The Howard Hughes Corporation®

Earth Day Weekend At Downtown Summerlin® Includes 21st Annual Tour De Summerlin®, Giant Student Farmers Market

This year, celebrate Earth Day by getting up close and personal on two wheels with all the natural and man-made beauty throughout Summerlin®! Tour de Summerlin, one of the valley's most popular cycling events for all ages and abilities, returns to the community on Saturday, April 22. Presented by The Howard Hughes Corporation®, Summerlin and Downtown Summerlin®, Tour de Summerlin is expected to draw more than 500 cyclists.

On Friday, April 21, the popular giant Student Farmers Market organized by Green Our Planet in partnership with Clark County School District returns to Downtown Summerlin® from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. This event celebrates the educational value of teaching gardens and healthy eating. The public is invited to purchase produce grown by more than 600 student farmers at 60 schools throughout Las Vegas with proceeds benefitting garden programs at participating schools.

Now celebrating its 21st year, Tour de Summerlin offers three distances: 80-mile; 40-mile; and a 20-mile ride to appeal to all skill levels of cyclists and start times beginning at 7 a.m. To register, visit tourdesummerlin.com. Registration fee is $105 per person. Children under the age of 15 may participate in the 20-mile ride with an accompanying adult for a fee of $20. The event benefits Breakaway Cycling, a nonprofit that promotes cycling and provides bike safety education to children through a partnership with Clark County School District.

"Breakaway Cycling is extremely honored to be selected as the benefitting charity for the 2023 Tour de Summerlin," said Brett Rawsky, Treasurer, Breakaway Cycling. "We look forward to working again this year with our partners at Team AMC and The Howard Hughes Corporation, and hope to see riders of all ages and abilities at this wonderful event!"

According to Danielle Bisterfeldt, SVP, Marketing and Consumer Experience, Summerlin, Tour de Summerlin was originally developed to showcase the community's beauty while giving cyclists first-rate, scenic routes that include Summerlin's actively selling new home neighborhoods as well as stunning views of Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area to the west.

Celebrate Earth Day weekend at Downtown Summerlin with the 21st annual Tour de Summerlin cycling event and the Giant Student Farmers Market featuring fresh produce grown by 600 student farmers from 60 schools valley-wide. Information on both events at Summerlin.com.

Green Our Planet, the local nonprofit that helps schools valley-wide to plant and operate teaching gardens and the organizer of the student farmers market, is actively involved in assisting several schools in Summerlin with their gardens funded by The Howard Hughes Corporation. This includes special Pollinator Gardens at select schools that feature flowers that support bees, butterflies, and ladybugs, with emphasis on providing respite for migrating Monarch Butterflies.

"Downtown Summerlin also has its own pollinator garden located in front of Banana Republic, and we encourage shoppers and visitors to make a visit to the garden a part of their Earth Day schedule that weekend," said Bisterfeldt. "Summerlin is proud of its history of environmental stewardship, and we invite everyone to celebrate Earth Day with us at Downtown Summerlin." 🌻
