COMMUNITY NEWS

By Randy Ecklund

Thanks For Caring For Your Community

Here in Summerlin, there is a certain comfort in the reality that every one of us contributes to Summerlin's overall well-being in one form or another. At a minimum we are part of a financial community assessment model designed to preserve and maintain the hundreds of acres of parks and open space common areas that we all enjoy. In addition to all the rain we have had of late, our landscape throughout Summerlin thrives because all of us committed to help pay for its care.

Continually dedicating ourselves to caring for our respective houses, yards and neighborhood streets is yet another layer and extension of this logic. Neighbors helping neighbors, working toward a common community goal, while taking pride in our mutual Summerlin success.

Then there are those that take such community commitments to a whole other level. This heightened sense of pride is exhibited by the thousands of residents who choose to contribute their passion, time, and talent to our various community organizations, effectively serving as our volunteer-driven Summerlin community "heart" that beats louder than ever.

We here in Summerlin owe a debt of gratitude to these legions of residents that have organized and energized countless local organizations that for years have served both ourselves and our families as the essential "fabric" of our community. Anyone that has had the time and pleasure to be involved in these volunteer community organization endeavors, understands that the reward is in the work itself, helping to make a positive difference, and in doing so, improving one's life and the lives of those around you.

And finally, I will offer a special thanks for those of you that have chosen a volunteer path of serving somewhere within Summerlin's many community association governance organizations. While the reward of volunteerism is truly in the giving, some volunteer paths can naturally tend to be a little bumpier. The unique work and demands of your respective community associations are endless and yes, dealing with fellow neighbor challenges and conflicts simply comes with the territory. A tough volunteer position to be sure, but yet another cornerstone to all of Summerlin's success, and Don, thank you for forever being a Summerlin community cornerstone. GNMAWYA ❤️

COMMUNITY DEVELOPER UPDATE

Celebrate Earth Day Weekend at Giant Student Farmers Market, Tour de Summerlin®

For those who call Summerlin® home, our community that is majestically framed by Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area, every day is Earth Day! This month, Downtown Summerlin will host two events Earth Day weekend to formally mark the occasion, while promoting overall wellness.

Student Farmers Market, Friday, April 19. On Friday, April 19, Downtown Summerlin hosts a giant Student Farmers Market organized by Green Our Planet, a local nonprofit that helps schools valley-wide plant and operate teaching gardens. Considered the country's largest student market, the free event runs from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and features produce from gardens at 55 schools throughout Southern Nevada. More than 500 student farmers will be on hand to sell school-grown fruits, herbs, vegetables and crafts to the public, with all proceeds going directly to participating school garden programs.

During the growing process, students also learn how to run their own businesses and create a school-garden-based business plan. At the Giant Farmers Markets, they're matched with bankers who coach them through customer service and negotiation as they sell their garden-grown fruits and vegetables to the community.

In Summerlin, Green Our Planet is actively involved in assisting several community schools with their gardens funded by Howard Hughes.

Tour de Summerlin, Saturday, April 20. Tour de Summerlin®, Southern Nevada's longest running cycling event, returns to the community on Saturday, April 20. Presented by Howard Hughes, Tour de Summerlin is expected to draw more than 500 cyclists.

Now celebrating its 22nd year, Tour de Summerlin offers three distances: 80-mile; 40-mile and a 20-mile ride for all skill levels with start times beginning at 7 a.m. This year, all bike types are permitted, including e-bikes. All registered participants will receive a t-shirt and medal. To register, visit www.tourdesummerlin.com. Registration fee is $115 per person. Children under the age of 15 may participate in the 20-mile ride with an accompanying adult for a fee of $20.

According to Danielle Bisterfeldt, Senior Vice President, Marketing and Consumer Experience for Summerlin, Tour de Summerlin was originally developed to showcase the community's beauty while giving cyclists scenic routes that include Summerlin's actively selling new home neighborhoods, as well as stunning views of Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area to the west. As an untimed event, the goal of Tour de Summerlin is to promote health, outdoor enjoyment, and safe cycling practices, she said. 🌻
